

Flow Festival will not take place in 2021 due to the global coronavirus pandemic.

Due to the exceptional circumstances caused by the global coronavirus pandemic, Flow Festival 2021 will be cancelled. Next Flow Festival will be organised on August 12-14, 2022, in Helsinki.

The ongoing and prolonged global coronavirus pandemic has made it impossible to organise Flow Festival. The festival organisation has been monitoring the development of the coronavirus situation and looking into several options to have a festival in August. Unfortunately, the organiser can't help but state that as the uncertainty continues, it is simply impossible to organise an international music event this summer. The planning for the 2022 festival has already started. The next Flow Festival will be held on August 12-14, 2022, in Helsinki.

"It's not possible for us to organise an international event this summer. We're now setting our eyes towards next summer when the big international tours will start again. We are looking forward to seeing our audience enjoying interesting music, quality food and inspiring art in the lingering summer evenings in Suvilahti. We will be sharing exciting lineup news as our program is confirmed", says Tuomas Kallio, Artistic Director of Flow Festival.

The existing tickets for either Flow Festival 2020 or 2021 will automatically be accepted for the 2022 festival without any additional arrangements. The Flow organisation wants to thank everyone who supported Flow by keeping their tickets last year and hope that people will do the same this time. It's also possible to return tickets and get a full refund, excluding the ticket sellers' service fee. Ticket sellers will email detailed instructions to ticket owners for returning tickets within the next week. Information will be updated on Flow Festival's website in the coming days.
